UNITED STATES AIR FORCE

COLONEL PAUL H. MCGILLICUDDY

Col. Paul H. McGillicuddy is the vice commander, 42nd Air Base Wing, Maxwell Air Force Base, Ala. As vice commander, he assists the installation commander in providing base and logistical support for Air University, 47 associate units and the personnel assigned to Maxwell Air Force Base and Gunter Annex.

Colonel McGillicuddy was commissioned in 1984 after graduating from the United States Air Force Academy. His first assignment was at Columbus AFB, Miss., as a T-37 instructor pilot and then he was assigned as a T-37 instructor pilot at Randolph AFB, Texas. Following F-111 upgrade training, he was assigned to Royal Air Force Lakenheath, United Kingdom. During this assignment he was deployed in support of Operation Desert Storm where he completed 28 combat sorties. After this tour he was assigned to Holloman Air Force Base, N.M., as an instructor pilot in the AT-38B.

In 1995 Colonel McGillicuddy was assigned to Headquarters United States Air Forces in Europe, Ramstein Air Base, Germany, where he served as an action officer and as the executive officer to the director of operations. Following Air Command and Staff College he attended F-16 training and was assigned to Kunsan Air Base, Korea, as the 8th Fighter Wing Inspector General. He was then assigned to Luke Air Force Base, Ariz., and served as operations officer and squadron commander. Upon graduation from the Industrial College of the Armed Forces in 2003 Colonel McGillicuddy was assigned to the Joint Staff where he has served as operations officer and deputy division chief, Operations Directorate, Joint Operations Division, CENTCOM and as the executive assistant to the assistant to the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.
